

School Council Blog

This week we had the very important task of shortlisting for the Whitbread awards. The Whitbread awards are an annual event celebrating art in school. This year's brief was 'Art that makes a Noise' and every class took part, creating a piece of noisy art. The shortlist is passed on to Rob who will, alongside the judging panel, give the Whitbread award to the favourite art work. The final judging will take part on Thursday morning in a special assembly.

Beth and the School Council.